OUR ADVISORS AND COACHES

OUR ADVISORS AND COACHES

We, the graduating class of 1986, dedicate this yearbook to our advisors. These people have enriched the quality of our four-year high school experience, often working far beyond the requirements of their activity stipends. Realizing the depth of their contribution to Avon High School and to our lives, we wish to offer this page as a way of saying "THANK YOU!"

THE MORSS REVIEW

Last summer delightful and quiet, a time when you DOUCETTE down and enjoy life, but like anything else, all such things must end, and Scrooge returned when school opened to take up his duties once again. But no sooner had we KIM back than Hurricane Gloria hit. Wow! The ROBBINS were knocked out of the air by the strong winds, and you wished you could be Peter PAM, whisking off to Never-Never Land and away from the trauma of this VAIL of tears. But that was not possible, and Scrooge, thinking firsthand observation of the storm would be fun, donned his ANDERSON-Little coat and headed outside. He hadn't gone far when bam! A branch fell on his head and all his lights went out.

Scrooge suddenly found himself in a new FORDE passing SULLIVAN Stadium, heading for a westward interstate. Rather an odd itinerary. First to see the St. LAWRENCE Seaway, an interesting spot with ships from many nations. Since it was lunchtime, a stop in the local pub seemed the answer for a sandwich, but it was swinging at midday. Some British sailors were carousing, making an infernal din. Scrooge turned to them and exclaimed, "Great SCOTT, can't you lads quiet down?" Realizing that they were being a nuisance, one turned and said in a Cockney accent, "We're a bloody noisy bunch of SEYLLERS, aren't we?" There was no disagreeing with that.

Then it was westward, through St. JOSEPH, Missouri, KEARNEY, Nebraska, and into Yellowstone Park, to see the Old Faithful and KANGISERS. Thence over the Continental Divide and on to San Francisco via HAYWARD and Oakland. After a day of sightseeing there, the fastest route across the town was on GEARY Boulevard to connect with 101 south.

The FORDE headed for Los Angeles. First Scrooge took a tour to see the LYONS in Safari Land and then to Knott's BERRY Farm, where he brought some CURRAN jelly. Then it was back to Hollywood, DE SENA of the film industry, to see the filming of "No, No, NANNETTE," starring GREGORY Peck, MERILYN Monroe, and CLARK Gable. By chance, JEN STAFFIER, the new leading lady of Dynasty, who happened to be on the set, invited Scrooge to a party that night at her MULHOLLAND Drive residence. What a spread! It was an exact replica of HAMPTON Court in England.

Everyone famous was there. MICHELLE FERRINI, having displaced CHERYL Tiegs as a leading model, turned up in a KELLEY green dress and wearing a diamond and emerald KENEKLIS. JULIA Childs was there; she'd done all the cooking, along with food heiress KAREN SWANTON, of TV dinner fame.

All was going well until ROBERT VENUTI, star of Miami Vice, strolled in with the most gorgeous VIAU in Hollywood on his arm. Much to his surprise, a Bing CROSBY look-alike, who had arrived on a Harley-DAVIDSON and not on a white charger, TUCKER away. VENUTI went wild. He grabbed the lazy SUSAN off the dining room table and bopped CROSBY on the CHIN, until the other guests decided to LINDA hand until a KOPP could get there. He then ran outside and hid in some mountain LAUREL beside the front door. It was much livelier than any St. PATRICK's Day party when the O'BRIENS and their friends lift their glasses. After that scuffle ended, the poet LORlate of England began reading poetry. After that, a young poetess, a student at PENNINGTON College, read some of her stuff after everyone QUALTER over. It wasn't bad, actually. Scrooge concluded that it had been a FABulous party, when a snapping and arcing became audible, along with the sound of howling wind. Scrooge had come to and decided he'd better get away from that downed branch and the hissing electric wire. Crawling to his feet, he headed back indoors.

Our Wishes Are For You
Good Health, Happiness,
And Success In Years To Come.

YOUR TEACHERS AT AVON HIGH

GET $25,200 FOR COLLEGE IN TODAY'S ARMY.

The rewards of being a soldier just got richer. With The New GI Bill Plus The New Army College Fund.

You contribute $100 a month from your first full 12 months' paychecks (for a total of $1,200). The government and the Army will contribute the rest (up to $9,600 from the government and up to $14,400 from the Army, if you qualify). That's a great deal.

And as a soldier, you'll also learn a great deal. The Army offers over 80 skills for training. Many of the skills are high-tech, and many are skills you might want to pursue in college.

Call your local Army Recruiter for all the details.

YEARBOOK PRODUCTION AND BUSINESS STAFF

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRODUCTION ADVISOR

Many hours of work have gone into the preparation of the 1986 yearbook. The students listed above have all contributed to its completion in some way, whether as a member of the business staff (obtaining financial backing) or on the production staff (planning, organizing, designing, cropping and labeling photos, or typing final copy). A quality book, which will endure for decades as a reminder of four very important years, is the result of a great amount of combined effort.

I would like to commend a few people who worked unusually hard to make this Yearbook a success.

Kim Tanian - Ad Section Layout

Deb Doucette - Senior Section Layout

Alvin Chin - Teachers' and Underclassmen Sections, layout and typing

Chris Keneklis, Andrea Curran, Sue Papagiotopoulos - Senior Section, Typing

Joe O'Connell merits special recognition. He worked on the Yearbook nearly every day, from September through February. Joe had a hand in the production of nearly every page of the book.

We would also like to thank Mr. Doug Bradshaw for the excellent quality of his photography.
